INTRODUCTION.

---

This list is intended to supersede the list of "Colonial Office Records" printed for official use in 1876 in so far as the latter relates to documents open to public inspection. It contains, in addition, lists of Colonial Gazettes, Colonial Sessional Papers, Statistical Blue Books and Miscellanea formerly preserved in the Colonial Office and transferred to the Public Record Office since 1876.

The records referred to therein, although generally known by reason of their nature as Colonial Office Records, are actually derived from several sources. The early economic development of the western colonies was subject to the rule of the Board of Trade and Plantations until the abolition of that body in 1782, whilst the military and political government was under the control of the Secretaries of State. Accordingly, down to the year 1782, there are two concurrent series of records described in the list of 1876 as "Board of Trade Records" and "America and West Indies," respectively. The records called Colonial Correspondence in the same list are those which have accrued regularly in the Offices of the Secretaries of State, who have successively administered colonial affairs, and have eventually reached the Colonial Office as continuous series (see Annual Colonial Office List, Introduction).

A mass of miscellaneous books, apparently accumulated in the Office of the Secretary of State for War and the Colonies between 1794 and 1850, was transmitted to the State Paper Office shortly before its amalgamation with the Public Record Office. These appear in the list of 1876, under the comprehensive title of "Colonial Office Transmissions."

For the purpose of the present list, the whole of the records have been re-arranged topographically, so that, as far as possible, everything relating to a particular colony will be found under the name of that colony. This could not be done in the case of the papers calendared by the late Mr. Noel Sainsbury, as they had already been arranged by him in chronological order and bound into volumes. They will be found at the beginning of the list; other matter referring to the colonies generally will be found at the end.

All minutes of Colonial Councils and Assemblies, wherever found, have been brought together into sets when this has been practicable, but a considerable quantity of these occur in bound volumes of correspondence in the form of enclosures, and these have not been removed.

Certain volumes formerly described among "Colonial Office Transmissions" were found to belong to series at present more properly preserved among the records of the War Office, and have been put into their right places.

All such transfers are noted in the key connecting the references in the old list with those in the new, which will be kept in the public search room for the convenience of students.

A number of volumes containing the Papers of the Eastern Commission of Enquiry, 1823-1830, which were received from the Colonial Office too late for incorporation, are set out in an Addendum which follows the Table of Contents.

The records have been re-arranged, and the list prepared by Mr. J. J. O'Reilly, of this Office, under the direction of Mr. H. Rodney, an Assistant Record Keeper.

H. C. MAXWELL LYTE.
